Sightseers Lose Straws In Hat Raid

Strangers in Chinatown Caught in Descent on District by Gang From Bend.

A number of sightseers in New York bought new hats to-day. They were not of straw. The headgear they had been wearing was swept up from the streets of Chinatown by department cleaners to-day. But the strangers will be qualified to return home and tell the folks what a "straw hat raid" is like. It was this way:

A gang of boys from ten to twenty years old went from the Mulberry Bend Park Italian section through Chinatown last night to put all the straw hats they encountered out of business. Chinese, lobbygows and loafers disappeared after the first onslaught had left many straw wrecks on the streets and sidewalks.

Then came a sightseeing bus. The occupants had never heard of a New York straw hat raid. The minute they piled into the streets of Chinatown the horde was upon them. They didn't know whether it was murder or mere robbery, but the men fought valiantly and the women used their umbrellas as good purpose.

The attackers were driven away, but not a masculine straw hat survived. All the police found later was a litter of straw.

Think well of the Dealer who is thinking of You

OBSERVERS of changing conditions know there has never been a time in the history of the retail business in this country when quality and economy ideas—and the dealers who stand for those ideas—had such a hold on the public.

A demand is now sweeping over the country for better—more serviceable—more economical merchandise.

The straightforward dealer knows this.

He knows that once public confidence is established, a dealer's success is assured—that the public is only going to continue to buy from dealers whom it can trust and esteem—men who always place the interest of their customers first.

That is why, in the stores of over a quarter million dealers in this country, you will always find the Gillette out where you can see and examine it.

On top of the counter—in the show window—ready to be handed out first whenever a man comes in looking for a razor.

The Gillette is the only scientific shaving instrument ever produced.

It started—not with a theory or a desire to sell razors—but with the actual shaving needs of men everywhere.

And working from that, it developed into a personal shaving service—a service that has gone 'round the world and changed the shaving habits of thinking men everywhere.

Whenever or wherever the topic of a good shave comes up, the Gillette habit is always the final answer.

Vouched for and acknowledged by twenty million men the world over as one of the cleanest, safest, most economical, most valuable habits they ever formed.

The dealer who hands you a Gillette is thinking first of your interests. Think well of him.
